Dedication

To that spirit of progress and achievement which has been the guiding influence of our Alma Mater, even in spirit of economical difficulties, we affectionately and respectfully dedicate this, the nineteenth volume of the ENTRE NOUS

Foreword

To cherish the things that are essentially a part of our Alma Mater, to add one more page to that checkered career known as life, to enrich and preserve the experiences of youth, has been the aim of this publication. If in some small measure the present happy days, youthful friendships and associations of college life are preserved, then our task will not have been in vain.

LET US

Having been at Howard only one year, accepting the duties of President June, 1932, Dr. Neal has made wonderful progress. He started work on a ten-year plan for reconstruction of Howard, and already has made many improvements. Construction has begun on the amphitheatre and the Science Hall remodeled and brick veneered. Dr. Neal came to our College when we were already in the throes of the financial depression. A man of ordinary strength could not possibly have made the record Dr. Neal has made and the record he promises to make. Where other colleges have stopped construction, Howard promises more, and where other college enrollments have been reduced, ours has increased. Dr. Neal has made it possible for students without ready money to attend school by accepting produce and labor for tuition. Not only students have worked for their tuition, but unemployed parents have been put to work on Howard constructions, thereby enabling them to send their boys and girls to college. It is his plan to make Howard grow in every possible way, and this can be done only through increasing the enrollment, new buildings, and endowment fund. This is his ten-year plan. This plan will have been fulfilled by 1942—Howard's hundredth birthday. The next step on the plan will be a new administration building. This building is to be built just to the right of Main and will house all administration offices, offices of the professors and sororities. small recitation halls are to be torn down to make room for larger buildings. Neal, besides being busy with all this work, still finds time to have interviews and friendly chats with the students, to lend a winning smile and willing hand to each and discuss all student issues. Because we believe in him, appreciate his willingness and helpfulness, his whole-hearted interest in Howard's welfare and that of every student, we want to express to him our gratitude and love.

Howard is especially fortunate in having a man like Percy Pratt Burns as its Dean. Having been at Howard in the capacity of student, professor, then dean, the history and progress of the College is closely related to the achievements of Dean Burns. Since his student days he has won a host of admirers and friends among the students. Always ready to hear and understand the problems of the students, never too busy to untangle some trying situation, a word from Dean Burns and the clouds disappear; one word of praise from him, and—well, it's a happy world after all. No person has quite the vocabulary to compare with that of Dean Burns, and many students will tell you that an informal talk from Dean Burns at the chapel period always makes the rest of the day a little easier. He talks in an easy manner and always with a ready wit. Every student admires him, for no man more deserves the well-termed praise, "To know him is to love him," than Dean Burns.

EVENTS YEAR

THEOPHILUS R. EAGLES

Prof. Eagles, vice-president and treasurer of the College, is one of the most beloved professors to be found in any college. Always sympathetic in the role of treasurer, helpful as a professor, and wise as an administrator, he occupies a huge space in the life of each and every student.

LOUIS W. LOHR

It might be said that Prof. Lohr hears more excuses and alibis than any other professor, by reason of chapel attendance. His field as instructor is Business Administration, but to the students he is a friend and advisor, and most of them will emphasize that he is a Smart

OF THE

One of the most interesting events of last summer, and the initial move of Dr. Neal, was the Howard College Good Will Tours. These tours covered every point of Alabama, the purpose of which was to let the people of the State know about the College. Each professor took four or five students with a territory of five to ten towns to tour. At each town they made contacts with prospective students and friends and told them about the College and its program. At each town they were welcomed and entertained. Not only did the State learn about the College, but the students learned about the State. Another outstanding event of the school year, and a prelude to the "Battle of the Marne," was the Howard-Southern parade. Many new features and stunts were used, and in the above scene are seen the "unfortunates" who bet on Southern. Of course, history will promptly tell you that Howard dropped the past game, one of the very few since Howard began her athletic relationship with her neighboring rival.

MAMIE MELL SMITH HALL

Dormitory for Women, was erected in 1928 by A. D. Smith, in memory of his wife.

FAMILIAR

Probably the most legendary landmark of our campus is the sturdy Sherman Oak, many love affairs having sprung up and ripened under the shady branches of this beloved tree. It has witnessed countless meetings, friendly chats, and has been found to be an excellent resting place between the car line and Main building. Some students like its cool shade to study and concentrate (some thoughtful freshman class furnished stone benches), while other students scientifically inclined seek the fresh air under its branches for respiration from the gases and odors of a busy science laboratory. The Science Hall has undergone a complete change from a lovely old colonial building to a modern red brick veneered structure. The interior has been renovated and much new equipment installed. Several new departments have been added, among which are the Cats' Infirmary and a Playground for Crippled Amoebas. Next, we point with pride to our most beautiful building—and why not? It houses our fair co-eds. Mamie Mell Smith Hall is also of red brick and located on Underwood Avenue, phone 9-2505. This dormitory will accommodate sixty-five girls. It is divided into eight suites comfortably furnished, each composed of a living room, four bed-rooms and two baths. Each suite is so arranged as to make an ideal place for studying, and to promote a cheerful, home-like atmosphere for each group of girls. The large reception room, where many of the college receptions and teas are given, is one of the most beautiful in the city. The general atmosphere of the dormitory is home-like and satisfying, being convenient to Renfroe, the campus and the church, which is across the street.

LANDMARKS The ole Science Hall, a familiar landmark, is being dressed in a new garb. The handsome red brick building looks so entirely different. AT HOWARD

RUHAMA BAPTIST CHURCH

The College Church, originates all religious activities for the students. Many of the dormitory boys and girls have their church membership transferred to Ruhama during the school months. The Church is closely associated with the College and is open to College devotional activities.

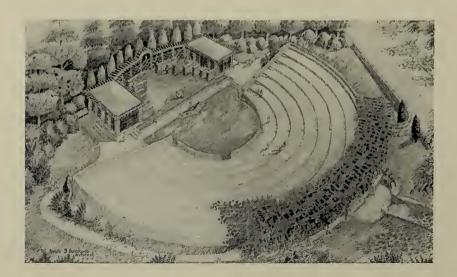

SCIENCE HALL

BERRY FIELD AND

THE ELIZABETHAN AMPHITHEATRE is the newest addition of landmarks on the campus. It is located just to the left of Causey Gymnasium and will be used in the future for stage productions and student meetings.

THE NEW AMPHITHEATRE

Berry Field, completed in 1921, and so called for its donor, Colonel W. A. Berry, is one of the most cherished possessions of all true Howardites. Howard's "at home" games were played here and at Rickwood Park until Legion Field was built, but is now used for scrimmage and interfraternity games. Berry Field has lately been beautified by rambling roses that have been planted around the entire fence, and might now be called Berry Rose Field. It is here that the boys are trained in shifts and plays. Here they find out that college football will make men of them. Besides being the home gridiron, it is also the home diamond. This year the boys enjoyed a new luxury—dug-outs, the latest improvement on the Field. Across from Berry Field is the new Causey Gymnasium, a beautiful red brick structure, named for Oscar S. Causey, Registrar, whose never-failing enthusiasm propelled campaign after campaign for this addition to Howard campus.

Completed in 1930, Causey Gymnasium was the greatest blessing ever presented a Howard football player. Dressing rooms, showers, and violet ray rooms promote to the health and well-being of our squad. The gymnasium is fitted for basketball, tennis, or indoor baseball, and ample space for the entire student body. It is here the beloved Prof. "War Eagle"

CAUSEY GYMNASIUM

Eagles makes his traditional war cry at the gigantic pep meeting the night before the Howard-Southern game. One side of the ground floor is equipped with showers, lockers and facilities for the girls. On this same floor is the religious organizations room, "H" Club and athletic offices.

Alma Mater

By Dr. George W. Macon (1884) Music by Prof. Paul DeLauney

Oh, Howard, Alma Mater true,
I love thy glorious name,
Deserving every honor due
To an unsullied fame.
I'll love thee through each fleeting breath
For all that thou hast done,
And in the agonies of death
Be still thy loving son.

Oh, Alma Mater, dear, thy life
A treasure is to me:
Thou, Phoenix fair, through flames and strife,
Hast shown thy right to be.
Since poverty has made thee rich
And struggle made thee strong,
I view thee in thy self-made niche,
And burst to filial song.

Oh, parent true, the future fair
Must hold but good for thee,
For hope's fruition waits thee there
In blest reality.
And sons like thine will make thee shine
With glory all thine own,
And bring to thy maternal shrine
Not gifts of gold alone.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

S President of the Senior Class of '33, I stand as representative before many to whom we are indebted. Realizing the great responsibility which is mine in trying to adequately express our gratitude to those who have so unselfishly promoted our careers thus far, I should like to say:

To you our parents, our hearts turn tenderly. We are aware of your boundless love and constant devotion. We realize that each one of our victories is lauded by each of you. We know that our hopes are no greater than yours for us, and we gratefully acknowledge your financial sacrifices.

Next, we turn to the faculty. Deep is our appreciation for you and your profound interest in us. We remain now in deep consciousness of the fact that each of you has devoted your life to the cultivating of raw products such as we. We appreciate your patience, loyalty, and affection. We place the laurels of our intellectual victories unhesitatingly at your feet.

To those who are just a few steps behind us we leave these words in passing: May the bond of friendly love that has rooted itself among us expand over the years to come into one unbroken chain of loyal friendship. Undergraduates, we bid thee an affectionate farewell.

Then, as classmates we turn to each other with regretful thoughts, realizing that this is the moment which is to rend asunder the tie of fraternal love in its associated sense. I believe I express the sentiment of each heart when I say that these have been four years of fond friendship and that we mingle a few bitter tears with anticipation for the future on realizing that we must part.

We bid each of you farewell. We look ambitiously toward the future, knowing our field is the world and our success is dependent upon our adaptation. In God's keeping we go.

ALLEN DOUGLAS.

HISTORY OF SENIOR CLASS

S the chronicler meditates upon the events of the four years of his college career, he is at once beset by the static impressions of numerous lingering memories, by a hodgepodge of confused reactions, and by innumerable cross-currents of conflicting remnants of past events. The task at first seems hopeless and entirely beyond the limited abilities of the narrator. He struggles vainly to coordinate the scattered fragments of the past; but he realizes that each distinctive event of the past—the pathetic, the hilarious, and the romantic—all alike have been tinted with the pale hue of passing time; that all their peculiarly individualistic qualities have been obliterated by the inevitable generalities of time. But soon the confusion of first impression passes, and the chronicler assumes a calmer mood. Assuming the philosophical role, he concludes that the best of these memories may be perpetuated through the medium of history. The task of recording the story of the class of 1932-33, therefore, becomes one of assimilating definite facts and of recording concrete events which have been instrumental in the shaping of the destinies of our class.

The class of 1932-33 is the 88th (eighty-eighth) graduating class of Howard College; and the numerical designation alone is a sufficient basis for distinguishing this class from other classes of more recent years. This class bears a very remarkable resemblance to all those classes of preceding years. The total membership, the composite list of honors attained in college; and the aggregate potentialities of the class of 1932-33 compare surprisingly with those classes of the last two decades—the only distinctive basis being in the peculiarities of individual personalities.

The class as a whole began its quest for a higher education in the fall semester of 1929 as a composite body of over three hundred members. Since that time the personnel of the class has been subjected to constant revision. The ranks have been thinned through the inability of part of the original membership to remain in school, as well as through transfer of others to other schools, and even the sinister hand of death and disaster has claimed its toll. On the other hand, our depleted ranks have been supplemented through the addition of students from other schools, with the final results that more than one hundred have filed applications for degrees this spring.

Our group began the pursuit of their ambitions mid scenes of changing and unsettled industrial conditions which have grown continually worse. Ours has been a time of unrest, or irresolution, of vicissitudes, of mental uneasiness, and of pessimistic forebodings of events beyond the horizon of graduation. It had required a great deal of fortitude to maintain our original scholastic ideals amid these adverse industrial conditions. Those who have done so, will undoubtedly be recompensed for their faith, through a more thorough preparation to fight the battles of life.

Our class has witnessed a change in the presidency of Howard College. This shift in the administrative personnel was occasioned by the resignation of Dr. John C. Dawson on September 29, 1930 after almost ten years of tenure. The vacancy was supplied by Vice-President Eagles until the permanent selection of Dr. T. V. Neal, who assumed the administrative duties of his position in June of 1932.

Many of the members of our group have compiled long lists of student activities and have made distinctive contributions to the history of Howard College. Some of these achievements have been recognized by the plaudits of the group; while others, no less deserving, have passed unnoticed, unobserved, and unappreciated. Truly distinctive among the honors accumulated by the class, are some which stand out as being worthy of special mention. Carl Park was honored with the presidency of the student body. Dewitt Matthews was named president of the state-wide B. S. U. organization; and Eddie Sweeney was finally rewarded for his brilliant feats on the gridiron by the captaincy of his team.

We extend our heartiest congratulations to our class-mates Herbert Maulitz, Nina Miglionico, Mary Claire Randall, and Elaine Aaron who have successfully qualified for the candidacy for degrees with honors.

No class history is complete until a summary of the annual football feud with our rivals across town has been included. Unfortunately the even tenor of the victories of former years has been interrupted by the discordant lamentations of two Southern victories during the four year span of our sojourn at Howard. The Howard cohorts were victorious during '29 and '31; while Southern won the other two decisions.

The tale is told; the curtain is drawn upon our career at Howard College; the class of 1932-33 aligns itself with its predecessors; and the siege is prepared for the continuation of the act with a different cast of actors.

THE COACHES

L. P. McLANE

Coach "Eddie" has completed his sixth year as a member of the Howard coaching staff. Four of these years he has been head coach. During this time he has gained the respect and esteem of each team, student body, and faculty member.

WILBUR EATON

Wilbur Eaton's second year as assistant coach increased his reputation as a thoroughly capable leader and instructor.

WILLIAM H. BANCROFT

Coach "Billy's" freshman coaching has been of the same A-1 quality as that of his undergraduate career.

VARSITY SQUAD

THE VARSITY

ROY KENNEDY, QUARTERBACK. Roy's signal-calling and passing was good all year. His ability to kick came as a surprise to everyone.

HUBERT THOMASON, QUARTERBACK. Hubert has made himself valuable to the team for his passing and blocking as well as for his ability to carry the ball.

NORMAN GARRETT, QUARTERBACK. "Red" has the advantage of being the only left-handed quarterback. His running and passing is good; he is a heady signal-caller.

HORACE GUTTERY, HALFBACK. During Swneeney's time out on account of injuries, it fell to Horace's lot to fill his place. He did the job exceedingly well.

CHARLIE HULSEY, HALFBACK. Charlie again played a brilliant game at half. His punting pulled Howard out of many holes. His running was also excellent.

TOM EVERETTS, HALFBACK. Tom is the speediest man on the team and a fine pass receiver. He showed his heels to many teams this year.

RAY HOLMSTEDT, CENTER. This was Ray's first year of varsity competition and he proved himself to be a powerhouse in the center of the line.

ROLAND BAILEY, CENTER. Bailey is one of the smallest men to play center at Howard in years, but opponents found him a miniature Gibraltar in action.

CHESTER MACOMBER, HALFBACK. "Chet" was unlucky enough to get a sprained ankle early in the season. His great speed and power should make him go good next year.

DADE SNELLGROVE, HALFBACK. Dade's speed made him a good halfback. He is possessed of an uncanny ability in snaring passes.

BEN FONTILLE, FULLBACK. Ben played fine football all year. His speed and power were a big help to the team. He has been playing and will play football.

HICKMAN EWING, FULLBACK. Hick has, in spite of his size, made a great name for himself as a fullback. He is a good tackler and powerful on line plays and blocking. He plays the game all the way.

HOWARD ABRAMS, FULLBACK. Howard is a fine punter and good ball carrier. He should run a good race for a regular berth next year.

DON MOSHER, GUARD. Don made a fine guard in spite of several injuries during the year. Oglethorpe players will remember him.

STANLEY MATE, GUARD. Although he has been dogged by injuries ever since he started playing football, Mate's shoulders held up long enough for him to get in some good football.

FRESHMAN SQUAD

THE VARSITY

DEWITT DUNN, TACKLE. "Bull" was changed to tackle this year and seemed to take well to his new position. He will make a good man next year.

JONAH ANDERSON, TACKLE. "Red," with his great size, should come through and hold down a steady tackle berth next year.

JIM STUART, END. Jim, though a sophomore, played great football all year. His ability to kick extra points won the Southwestern game for Howard.

ROY FAYET, END. Although "Pooch" is the smallest man on the squad, his end play has been nothing short of brilliant. He is to be captain next year.

RUSSELL GARRETT, END. Russell has made a name for himself as a fine blocker and tackler. His end play is 100 per cent reliable.

THOMAS LAWSON, END. "Swcde" had a season of changes. His changes from end to guard and back again kept him working harder than anyone on the squad to keep himself adapted.

ELLISON COSBY, END. Ellison found the going rather tough at end this year. With the year of added experience though, he should make a valuable man next year.

FRED PHILLIPS, END. Fred is a good, small end. He had the bad fortune to have a knee hurt about mid-season, but should make a valuable man next year.

MIKE WELLS, GUARD. Mike's size has nothing to do with his ability. He played fine football all year. His game against Auburn was outstanding. He is alternate captain for next year.

PRESTON LANGSTON, GUARD. This was Langston's first varsity year. He shows excellent prospects of being a fine guard next year. Watch him!

ODELL SCIFRES, TACKLE. "Arky" played his usual scintillating game this year. The Bulldogs will miss him sorely next year.

BILL STAPLES, TACKLE. Bill was missed terribly in the four games from which he was absent due to his infected knee. Bill's performance at tackle was nice to watch.

JACK OSBORNE, TACKLE. "Sunny Jack" came through with a bang at both guard and tackle at times of stress. His last-half play against Millsaps was fine.

OLIN KELSO, TACKLE. Although Olin is the smallest one of the smallest tackles on the team, his power, agility and heads-up football made him a valuable man.

1932 VARSITY SEASON

The Howard College Bulldogs opened their 1932 grid schedule under the lights at Legion Field, and won from the Spring Hill Badgers, 13 to 0. Spring Hill's big boys were not able to get going, whereas Howard finally hit their stride and scored two touchdowns in the final period of the game. The game was closely contested, but the Crimsons had the upper hand throughout the fray. The entire squad was used.

The next game, on Friday night, September 23, was played against Coach Harry Robinson's Oglethorpe Petrels in Atlanta, Georgia. Howard upset the old dope bucket and won the game by a score of 14-6. This game was the best game played by the Bulldogs during the entire season and showed prospects of a bright season. Oglethorpe's heavier team was completely outfought and the Bulldogs deserved great credit for beating this excellent team. Gordon Garrett and Bob Glenn played outstanding games in the line, as did Sweeney, Gresham, and Ewing in the backfield.

The Mercer Bears of Macon, Georgia, were Howard's next opponents, on Saturday, October 1. The game ended 21-6 in favor of Mercer. In the first half, the game was all Mercer's, but in the second half it was mostly Howard's. Two features of this game were long touchdown runs on intercepted forward passes by "Pinky" Walden, flashy Bear back, and Hick Ewing, Crimson fullback. The heavy, powerful attack was too much for the Bulldogs, although there was never a slacking in their fight.

The next game on the Bulldog docket was with the University of Mississippi. Another hefty combination succeeded in handing Howard a 26-6 defeat. Howard was ahead 6-0 at the half, but Walker's Ole Miss squad came back with a smash to pile up 26 points in the last two periods. Old Man Luck was certainly their standby, because two of their touchdowns came on utterly freakish plays. Howard lost, but the Mississippians didn't need to be told that they had played a tough game. This game was played in Oxford, Miss., on Saturday, October 8.

Next came one of Howard's longest football trips. The Bulldogs played the Nodaks of the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, N. D., on October 15. En route to Grand Forks the team worked out in Chicago's Soldier Field, and listened to America's Ben Bernie "and all the lads" in the College Inn of the Hotel Sherman. The game was played in snowy weather with a north wind of gale proportions blowing throughout the afternoon. North Dakota's 196-pound team proved too much for the Crimson's much lighter one. The final score was: Nodaks, 39; Bulldogs, 7.

Chattanooga's champion Moccasins were played in Birmingham, Saturday, October 22. Coach Moore's scrappy outfit annexed another Howard scalp and took the game, 19-0. It was at about this time that Old Man Injuries found lodging in the Bulldog wigwam and made things lively for the medicine man. Chattanooga showed a smoothly clicking outfit to Birmingham fans, and took this nicely played game.

On October 29, Howard travelled over to Memphis to take Southwestern's Lynx for a 14-13 ride. Jim Stuart's toe was responsible for the two extra points which gave the Bulldogs their one-point margin of victory. It was not until the last eight minutes of play that Harvey Moore sounded the note that started the zero hour passing and running barrage that won the game. This game had as an added attraction a free-for-all in which the Memphis fans co-starred. This incident, however, was not a novelty, for it seems that fighting is the fad for fans this year.

Saturday, November 5, saw the Bulldogs in Montgomery engaged in a game with the Auburn Tigers, strong Southern Conference eleven. This team succeeded in defeating Howard 25-0 (one spinner, one off-tackle play, two passes, and one extra point). Tom Everetts showed the Cats his speedy heels several times in running and catching passes. Hitchcock was not his usual superior self, but Casey Kimbrell and Allen Rogers kept the Dogs worried most of the time. This game showed Howard's best defensive play of the season, at times. On three different occasions the Crimsons, while backed up against their own six-yard stripe, succeeded in holding Auburn for downs. Mike Wells played the best game of his college career.

The dope bucket was upset on Howard in Jackson, Miss., November 11, by the Millsaps Majors. They defeated the Bulldogs 19-0 on a sloppy, half-frozen field in which fast-moving cleats refused to take hold. The Majors showed a suspected but unexpected powerful attack with which they were able to make good gains over the Howard line. They also had good luck with their passing attack, whereas the Bulldogs were not very successful in any field. A 72-yard punt from behind his goal line by Charley Hulsey was a feature of the game.

And then came the Battle of the Marne on November 19. Birmingham-Southern took this game, 7-0, and, by so doing, walked off with its first Dixie Conference Championship. The Hilltoppers scored their lone touchdown on a short pass over the goal line early in the game. On several occasions Howard backs broke loose with only Masten O'Neal, Southern safety man, between them and goaldom, but "Sloppy's" tackles were always accurate. As is usual, the game was a close one, hard fought. Howard's record in this particular series is three losses since the season of 1916, and six losses since 1907, when the annual games were started.

This season, as far as games won and lost was concerned, was not highly successful, but praise is due to the coaching staff and every member of the football squad for the ambition, courage, and spirit that enabled them to give all they had for Howard.

This year closed the careers of a number of Bulldog football players. Brown, Gresham, A. Douglas, Moore, Laney, Staples, Scifres, Kincaid, Glenn, Cunningham, Sweeney, G. Garrett, and Fields graduate this year. They will be missed when practice starts next September.

Howard's 1931 basketball team was, until the Dixie Conference tournament, a very ordinary team. It won some few games and lost as many more, always with a narrow margin of victory or defeat. However, when this team started into the Conference tournament there was no stopping it, and the brilliant play of its men netted only one point less than was needed to win the first Dixie Conference basketball championship.

Basketball started under full power at the beginning of the new semester. Howard's home schedule was opened with Staple's Pharmacy. Staples won the game, and two Howard students playing with that team starred. One of these men, Irwin Waldrop, was drafted onto the Howard team and played a fine game throughout the rest of the year.

On Howard's second meeting with the Staples quintet they emerged victors by a score of 50-18, with Stidham and Foster playing their usual scintillating game.

Howard's next local game was played against the Y. M. H. A. team. This team was the defending champion of the city league, and again in 1931 ranked as the strongest in the league. The Simonizers won 40-31, but, judging from pre-game dope, Howard's showing was excellent.

In their next appearance the Bulldog five beat Birmingham-Southern in the first game of the city championship series by a score of 33-29. The game was played on the B. A. C. floor.

The next game the Panthers came back strong to win the victory, 29-25. In the third through February 26. In the first round, Howard defeated a weak Spring Hill team by a wide margin. "Cherry" Foster led the scoring with 18 points. The Bulldog's next opponent, Millsaps, was a great favorite to win the tournament, but in the greatest upset of the series Howard came through with a 48-43 in a closing dash, eclipsing all other moments of the tournament for speed and accuracy of performance. Every man who participated in this game played inspired basketball, because that was what was needed to win.

As finalists in the first annual conference basketball tournament, Howard and Chattanooga met. The game was opened with a dash encounter, Southern again won by scoring the decisive two points in the last minute of the game. The score was 23-21.

In the fourth game the Bulldogs led the Panthers until the last six minutes, when the Hilltoppers sped into the lead and stayed there. Wylie Waller, Southern's scoring ace, was guarded so closely in this game by Al Brown that he was only able to score three points until the second half, when Brown was ejected from the game because of fouls.

The great team-work of "Cherry" Foster and Ernest Stidham was a remarkable feature of the series. Foster's performance this year has been the most brilliant seen in local games, with Stidham's running a close second. In the series, Foster and Stidham totaled 84 points, or 80 per cent of Howard's total points.

The Dixie Conference basketball tournament was held at the B. A. C. from February 23 by the Moccasins, who scored eight points, but by the time the half ended Howard was only behind by two points and the score stood 19-17. With but five minutes left to play, Chattanooga, with their three-point advantage, began to freeze the ball, and Howard was only able to make two more points. The game ended with Chattanooga winning by a one-point margin, 40-39. Stidham and Foster were high scorers of the series with 49 and 51 points, respectively.

The Howard players deserve a great amount of credit due to the fact that they were able to pull out of a very mediocre season into a brilliant finish and close their season with the gratification of being in second place in the conference basketball standing.

All players were awarded silver basketball watch-charms signifying second place in the tournament.

The completion of the Berry Track Field this year was a great help to the sport. There was much splendid material available, and with the able coaching of Bob Clark, Howard made a very impressive showing in various divisions of track. The outstanding men were: Macomber, pole vault at 11½ feet; Duncan, 1 mile in 4 minutes and 45 seconds; Everetts, 100-yard dash in 9 minutes and 9 seconds, and 220 yards in 22 seconds.

In the Fraternity Track Meet, the high point men were: Macomber, Alpha Lambda Tau; Everetts, Theta Kappa Nu; Duncan and Clinkscales, non-fraternity. Theta Kappa Nu won the Fraternity Track Meet.

As manager of the team Joe Mike Wells did a swell job. As coach, Bob Clark was incomparable. He will not be back at Howard next year, and his will be a hard place to fill. Wherever he may be, we wish him much success and happiness.

The scores for the season were:

GIRLS

With Miss Cate's entrance to Howard College in 1930, women's varsity teams were abandoned and class teams started. At that time the Women's Athletic Association was formed to put a point system into operation.

According to the point system any girl having fifty points is admitted to the association. The points are gained by coming out for a certain percentage of the practices and taking part in interclass games. For instance, fifty points are awarded to the girls coming out to the required number of practices; one hundred points to those making the actual team in a major sport. Seven hundred and fifty points are necessary to win an "H."

It is the function of the Women's Athletic Association to regulate the interclass and intersprority games. Each fall a party is given in honor of the Freshman Class, and in the spring a W. A. A. banquet for all members, at which letters and loving cups to the winning teams are awarded. The association sends two delegates to the convention of the National Federation of College Women and also sends representatives to the annual Alabama State College play day. District Number Five in Alabama holds its annual play day at Howard, which is sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association.

Hockey was first introduced to Howard College by Miss Cate the fall of 1930. Since then, under her coaching, hockey has become dear to the hearts of W. A. A. members. This year at the first of October approximately thirty girls were on the field in their blue suits, and by the end of the season twenty-five girls had earned points. The combined Freshman-Junior team won the most games in hockey, finally over-riding the Sophomore-Senior team by the score of 2-0. Players on the 1936-1934 team winning the cup are: Lucile Metts, Mattie Howell, Julia Brown, Madrene Rothermel, Mildred Brooks, Arsella Foster, Virginia Eagles, Erin Wallace, Mary Graves, Elizabeth Knight, Lillie Mae McLaney, and Grace Mangun.

The girls' interclass basketball teams played many fast and interesting games this year. The senior team elected Evie Mae Ansley, '33, as their captain; the juniors chose Majel Mangun, '34, as their captain; the sophomores, Theo Bozeman, '35; and the freshmen were captained by Louise Nail, '36.

The freshman team and the sophomore team were the undefeated teams that played the championship game. The final game was played fast and snappy. During almost the entire game both teams kept a tie score. In the last quarter the score was 14-12, but the freshmen raised their score two points to make it a tie again. In the last minute of play the sophomores scored another basket, leaving the final score in their favor, 16-14. Members of the sophomore team were: Theo Bozeman, Hazel Pawson, Faye New, Frances Hankins, Ethel Howle, and Dorothy Wilhite.

Warm days are here again and it's baseball time at Howard. Seventh inning! Two and three . . . what will it be? It's a strike and the freshman-senior team won the tournament. The cup was duly presented to the following girls at the W. A. A. banquet: Madrena Rothermel, Eloise Miles, Louise Nail, Mattie Howell, Juliet Weeks, Ann Berry, Maxine Dupuy, Evie Mae Ansley, Lonnell Smith, and Louise Detamore.

The popularity of tennis is always shown by the enrollment in the tennis classes. Toward the last of the year a tournament was held to determine class teams. Hazel Pawson, '35, skilled racqueteer, defeated Glendolyn Cole, '34, for singles championship. Ruth Carver and Frances Hankins, both of the Class of '35, were winners of the doubles tournament. Now that the girls' court in back of the gymnasium has received attention and the court back of Renfroe Hall is available to the girls, there will be greater chance for participation in this sport.

Ping-pong. Howard's most popular sport! Long nay the balls stand up under the slams and bangs, slices and cuts of the expert ping-pongists, and three cheers for the instructors that hold classes in order that the me ed students may even get into the ping-pong room. Yes, dear reader, 'tis true that ping-pong is considered as modified gym, but the waiting line of football players eagerly awaiting their turn would not be longer if ice cream were served free with each game.

Hall of Infamy

HALL OF INFAMY

We nominate the following to our first Howard College Hall of Infamy. Think of that, boys and girls, charter members!

Reba Wear, for her courage in continuing to hang around Carl Park, even though he's not President of ye old Student Body any more. But there's another side to that too—maybe she's afraid to leave him.

The whole Sigma Nu and A. D. Pi fraternities, for their ability to gather a body of sixty-five voters to themselves in the Who's Who election last winter. The old "Solid South" was great, but the "Solid Snakes" are greater. Then, they deserve recognition for the trouble some of them took to write alike. They learned well, though, because some twenty ballots had the same handwriting. Nice going, Snakes, but we still want to see the "Solid Sixty-Five."

Dr. Augustus "Hannibal" Mason, for being so utterly charming at times and still being able to fly into a beautiful Shake-spearean rage at any time. Maybe he learned that in the Army.

And then, from the ridiculous to the sublime—Alpha Delta Theta Sorority, the "Praying Sistren," for their ability to stand up under Dennis Connif's frequent visits.

Newell Bryan, the "Sweetheart of Pi Kappa Phi," for being able to snoot some boys everywhere but at a dance. Nice, though, about the Pi Kappa Phis taking you, wasn't it, Newell, but remember, they just had to have somebody.

HALL OF INFAMY

Lee Goff, for being able to get from her house to school and back in two hours and a half. "Vas you dere, Charlie?"

Marguerite Romeo, for thinking she's "it". Wonder why there's always a bunch of football players hangin' around? Answer? Oh, that's the reason she's in this collection.

Lil Cunningham, for sporting that Lambda Chi pin around. She said she had to get the boy drunk to get it, but a Cunningham always gets her man. Ssssssnake!

Lurlene Orr and her campaign manager, Loee Salter, for figuring some means of hanging onto a football player and a class president at the same time. Pretty good haul for a beginner,—or maybe she's kept something from us all this time.

The S. P. E. Fraternity for continuing to have a chapter when they have no furniture. Yeah, the Airport Grill and Highland Park Country Club reclaimed all their stuff last year, and when they got through there wasn't anything left.

Miss Annie L. Boyett, for being able to say "delicious" more times in a given period than any other person alive. (A record.)

HALL OF INFAMY

Dixie "Jean Harlow" Patten, for being the only girl on the campus to wear her summer hair all winter (two-tone, y'know). Oh, yeah, she went to the University of Chattanooga once, too. What? You didn't know? Why, I thought everybody knew that.

Madrene Rothermel, for being able to look warm and be cold. Get the idea? Warm eyes, cold shoulder—it's an old Hilltop custom. Easily developed, this habit, but awkward as anything when the user decides to break down and make some friends.

Graham Cox, for looking like "Little Hercules" when he has a coat on. What if there was no cotton or wool to build up those coat shoulders?—or, if Graham's feet weren't heavy enough to hold him down? He'd have to anchor himself to keep from being blown away.

Al Brown, for being "Apollo." You needn't puff up, Al, you didn't have a thing to do with the color of your hair or the fact that there's a wave in it.

Eunie Parker, for speaking to fewer people on the campus than any other co-ed. She must have power, though, because she always gets a rush at the dances—if there are any Snakes present.

All the Delta Zetas, for getting such a grand bunch of pledges last fall. Did you notice how popular they were at first? Wonder what happened after that?

HALL OF INFAMY

Eloise McLaurine, for becoming the new First Lady of Howard, and Lamar Kennedy, for feeling flushed enough to give her that lovely "Sweetheart" pin. Somebody should write a "Private Life of She Who Wears a Sweetheart Pin." Might be interesting, don'tcha think?

Henry Allen Parker, for so effectively veiling the "great open spaces" with those "perfectly delicious" dark eyes. Don't you just love him? Lots of these High School "Nine Day Wonders" last just about as long as it takes to wonder how they got that way. Watcha say, Hank?

Aileen Carlton, for taking Frank Flemming for a ride. How did Frank get the idea that he could make any headway with an A. D. Pi, and especially the one that, according to the "Solid Snakes," was the prettiest female on the campus? Tut, tut, Frank, go get the unguentine.

Bob Clark, for carrying on after he found out that his secret sorrow was a Mrs. Too bad she didn't see you in your boots before she took the fatal step, isn't it? Since that sight is absolutely irresistible, her name would now be Clark instead of—well.

Bob Ansley, for not becoming a butcher. He's expert at cuting people's throats and putting knives in their backs. Wouldn't it be funny if somebody skinned him and dried the hide just like any other Snake's? Such a little big man.

HALL OF INFAMY

Paul Kincaid, for maintaining such a high opinion of his own superiority throughout four years in college, in spite of a number of discouraging incidents. That's the old spirit, Paul!

Tom Everetts and Jim Stuart for having nerve enough to offer the Beta Phi Alphas one of their own chairs in exchange for the sofa. Oh, yeah, and they stayed clean in spite of the fact that they lost a whole load of toilet accessories in Macon, Georgia, last fall.

Lawrence Fitzpatrick, for being such a good example to the football team last year. It's said that he readily adapts himself to all conditions.

Ed Mason, for maintaining that expression of sweet innocence even when he's unconscious. Really, Ed, you should wake up sometime and let us all see what you look like when you're thinking.

Miss Frence Haynes, for her occasional lapses into her delightful native mountaineer style English. Yes, even the Dean slips once in a while.

And, lastly, me, my dear, dear public, for telling everything I know in this manner. Nastly old baby, anyhow!
